PERSONAL STATEMENT

I'm a full-stack software developer who took the long road into tech - after years of running my own business, I shifted gears to coding because I wanted to build, automate, and solve problems with technology instead of just talking about it. Over the past two years, I've immersed myself in modern JavaScript development, from Node.js backends and SQL/NoSQL databases to React and mobile apps, always focusing on making things work reliably in the real world.

What sets me apart is the combination of hands-on technical skills and a business mindset: I understand not only how to build an application, but also why it needs to exist and how it should serve people. My recent projects range from AI-powered chatbots to geolocation apps, and each of them reflects the same goal - turning complex ideas into working, scalable solutions.

I'm looking for opportunities where I can keep growing as a developer, contribute to meaningful projects, and bring the same mix of creativity, discipline, and international perspective that has carried me through my career so far. If you're searching for someone who writes clean code, thinks about the bigger picture, and never stops learning, I'd be glad to start a conversation.
